Women of the Palestinian Refugee Camps in Lebanon

Background Information
- Zionist Militias occupying Palestine
- Refugees in Arab Countries
- Lebanon: Refugees form a socioeconomic class
- Refugee Women: Interlocking systems of oppression
- Max Weber: Life Chances
- Patricia Hill Collins: Matrix of Dominance and Oppression
- Hisham Sharabi: Neopatriarchy

Why this Research?
Each Palestinian refugee woman owns her human experience. Her story is unique. She is not merely a number in demographics and statistical reports. Hoping to use my skills in documentation, I stand in solidarity with oppressed women and marginalized refugees.

Methodology
- Qualitative Method
- Focus Groups
- One-on-one interviews

Research Findings
- Hopes and Dreams
- Incidents of Injustice
- Life Chances and Struggles
- Romantic Life
- Happiness
